THE

PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL

For 1889 (Seventeenth Year).

Large 8vo, about 3000 pages. With Duplex Index. Cloth, $2.00.

The Trade List Annual for 1889 will contain:

1. The latest CATALOGUES OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume.
2. A complete list by author, title, and subject of all books recorded in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY from January to June, 1889, supplementing the ANNUAL CATALOGUE, 1888.
3. The "EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE" for 1889, which is used by the entire trade and educational interests as the most representative reference-list of School-books.

The above Lists, all bound in one volume, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books.

The patent "DUPLEX INDEX" having given such general satisfaction, we are now applying it to all copies of the "Annual." Volumes supplied with the "DUPLEX INDEX" have the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, which enables instantaneous reference, whether the book is open or shut.

 Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be despatched by express unpaid. Parties so desiring can have their copies sent by mail, or by prepaid book-rate express for 80 cents per copy extra.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE REPRINT CO., Caledonia, N. Y., have just issued in sumptuous style a narrative and romantic poem by J. H. McNaughton, entitled "Onnala Linda."

A. LOVELL & CO., 3 E. 14th St., N. Y., will publish early in September a volume on the "Honors of the Empire State in the War of the Rebellion," by Thomas S. Townsend, the compiler of the well-known "Library of National Records."

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish at once a new revised and enlarged edition of King's "Classical and Foreign Quotations." The first edition was exhausted three months after its appearance, and the author has been engaged on the revision since that time.

SCRIBNER & WELFORD have just issued the sixth volume of the Henry Irving Shakespeare, which was delayed by the illness of the editor, Mr. Frank A. Marshall. This volume contains the plays of "Othello," "Antony and Cleopatra," "Coriolanus," and "King Lear." A prefatory note explains that it was intended to print "Hamlet" here instead of one of the four plays given, but that the revision of the proofs had not been finished when Mr. Marshall's health broke down. Two new artists are represented here, the illustrations to "Antony and Cleopatra" being by Mr. Maynard Brown, and those to "Coriolanus" by Mr. W. H. Margetson. The introductions have been written by Mr. Joseph Knight and Messrs. Wilson Verity and Arthur Symons.

THE WORTHINGTON CO., in addition to the announcements already made, are preparing the following books for the fall. First in importance is a new edition of "Taine's English Literature," with an introductory essay by Richard H. Stoddard, which enables them to copyright the book. "The Memoirs of the Count de Grammont" will be brought out as a holiday publication with photogravures and portraits. There will also be editions de luxe of Macaulay's "Lays of Ancient Rome" and Main's "Treasury of English Sonnets." Their Banner Library will receive additions of European and American classics and bright modern novels. For the young "Worthington's Annual," new editions of Mary A. Lathbury's pretty books, and new volumes in The Fairy Land series will be ready in good time.

THE INDIANA SCHOOL-BOOK COMPLICATIONS.

REPORTS from Indianapolis indicate that trouble over the new school-book system has just begun. It is generally believed that the law providing for the adoption of text-books under a State contract, whereby the prices to the parents of pupils will be reduced about 60 per cent., is sure to prove a failure. It is asserted that the text-books which have been adopted are greatly inferior to those in use, and in several counties the school officers will, it is threatened, refuse to receive the new books.

In anticipation of the trouble the State Superintendent several days ago asked for advice from the Attorney-General as to his interpretation of the law, and a long opinion was submitted, July 30, in which it was held that the statute is mandatory and nothing is left to the judgment or discretion of the school officers. The Governor on the 30th ult. also issued a proclamation in accordance with the requirements of the act, declaring that its provisions must be fully complied with by all concerned. Within thirty days all county superintendents must file new bonds double the amount of those required heretofore. Those who fail to do so may be deposed from office.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., oblong, nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Alger, Horatio, jr. The young acrobat of the great North American circus. N. Y., Frank A. Munsey & Co., 1888. c. 208 p. 1 il. S. (Munsey's popular ser., no. 8.) pap., 25 c.

Allen, Grant. The tents of Shem. Chic. and N. Y., Rand, McNally & Co., 1889. 8-326 p. il. D. (Globe lib., no. 103.) pap., 25 c.

The scene is a novel one, the characters are unconventional, the incidents bizarre. Two Englishmen pitch their tent in an Algerian village, one with a view to pursue his studies as a naturalist, the other to improve himself as an artist. While plying their separate vocations, a Kabyles maiden makes a sudden advent into their lives, and changes the current of the story. Le Marchant becomes interested enough to learn the girl's history and start an investigation. This brings about two very pretty romances.

Allen, Nathan, M.D. Physical development; or, the laws governing the human system. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1888. c. 348 p. O. cl., $2.50.

Ashley, C. B. Gilbert the trapper; or, the heir in buckskin. N. Y., Frank A. Munsey & Co., 1889. c. '88. 224 p. il. S. (Munsey's popular ser., no. 20.) pap., 25 c.

Ashley, C. B. Luke Bennett's hide out: a story of the war. N. Y., Frank A. Munsey & Co., 1888. c. 208 p. 1 il. S. (Munsey's popular ser., no. 9.) pap., 25 c.

Ashmore, Annie. The smuggler's cave; or, who shall be the heir? N. Y., Frank A. Munsey & Co., 1888. c. 215 p. 1 il. S. (Munsey's popular ser., no. 11.) pap., 25 c.

Ball, W. W. Rouse. A history of the study of mathematics at Cambridge. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1889. 16+264 p. D. cl., $1.90.

Bancroft, Hubert Howe. History of the Pacific States of North America. V. II: Texas, v. 2, 1801-1809. San Francisco, Cal., The History Co., 1889. c. 16+814 p. maps, O. cl., $4.50; leath., $5.50; hf. cf., hf. rus., or mor., $8; rus., mor., or tree cf., $10.

Deals mainly with Texas, although it includes chapters on the northern states of the Mexican confederation, viz., Chihuahua, Durango, Sonora, and Sinaloa, together with the Mexican Federal territory of Lower California. The four interesting stages in the evolution of the Texan commonwealth during the present century—(1) the period of discontent and rebellion, ending in secession from Mexico; (2) the epoch of political independence; (3) the annexation to the United States, the war with Mexico, the relatively slow development of the country under the slavery regime; and (4) the amazing growth of the state in wealth and population resulting from the abolition of slavery and the inflow of white emigrants—are fully delineated. The book is especially full of biographical data.

Barlow, Crawford. The new Tay bridge: a course of lectures delivered at the Royal School of Military Engineering, at Chatham, Nov., 1888. N. Y., E. & F. N. Spon, 1889. 46 p. il. Q. cl., $8.50.

Bishop, H. G. The practical printer: information for printers, suitable for the boy, the journeyman, the foreman, the manager, and the proprietor. N. Y., Farmer, Little & Co., 1889. 200 p. S. cl., $1.

Bixby, Ja. Thompson. Religion and science allies; or, similarities of physical and religious knowledge. Chic., C. H. Kerr & Co., 1889. c. 226 p. D. pap., 30 c.

The conflict between the physical discoveries and the forms of faith which have ruled Christendom is the most noticeable intellectual movement of the times. The writer makes clear that science must not be confounded with metaphysics and speculations, nor religion with ecclesiastical organizations and theological systems. He aims to prove that true science and true religion can be helpful fellow-laborers for the perfecting of the human race.

Blouët, Paul, ["Max O'Rell," pseud.] and Allyn, Jack. Jonathan and his continent; tr. by Mme. Paul Blouët. New cheap ed. N. Y., Cassell & Co., 1889. 13+313 p. D. pap., 50 c. (Corr. price.)

Browning, Rob. Poetical works. V. 15: Dramatic idyls and jocoseria. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1889. 6+260 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Carey, Rosa Nouchette. Merle's crusade. N. Y., G: Munro, [1889.] 3-226 p. S. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 1208.) pap., 20 c.

Carey, Rosa Nouchette. The search for Basil Lyndhurst. N. Y., G: Munro, [1889.] 3-468 p. S. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 1194.) pap., 30 c.

Carus, Paul. Fundamental problems: the method of philosophy as a systematic arrangement of knowledge. Chic., Ill., The Open Court Pub. Co., 1889. 250 p. D. cl., $1.

Chadeayne, H. Colorado fee-table, Colorado bar. Lamar, W. E. Coutant, pr., 1889. c. 5 p. unpaged. Q. pap., 25 c.

Chapman, Rev. Jacob. Weeks genealogy: Leonard Weeks, of Greenland, N. H., and descendants, 1639-1888. Albany, N. Y., Joel Munsell's Sons, 1889. 302 p. por. and il. O. cl., $4.

Clarke, Mrs. Anne, and others. The ideal cookery book—economy, wealth, and comfort in the household: 1349 new, useful, and unique recipes in cookery and all departments of housekeeping. Chic., F. J. Schulte & Co., [1889.] c. 402 p. D. oil-cloth, $1.50.

The compiler has been assisted by some of the most successful housekeepers and home-makers in the United States, Canada, France, Germany, and Great Britain. The 1349 new, useful, and unique recipes include 1205 for miscellaneous food and drinks; 66 for cookery for the sick; and 72 for remedies to be used in common ailments or in case of accident. Ten pages are devoted to male and female names, with their original signification, under the heading "What to name the baby." The index is practically arranged.

Collingwood, Harry. Pirate Island: a story of the Southern Pacific. N. Y., Frank A. Munsey & Co., 1888. c. 188 p. il. S. (Munsey's popular ser., no. 15.) pap., 25 c.

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

- Shadrach and Meshach, nicknamed Shad and Shed, were twin brothers who flourished in the year 1655. Shad was fat with a merry face, Shed thin and of lugubrious countenance. An old-fashioned story of hidden treasure, suspected sorcerers, outlaws, scuttled ships, and adventures of all kinds, in which these brothers take active part, and when their work is over, rejoice and "go a-fishing."

- Foster, W: Follies, foibles, and fancies of fish, flesh, and fowl. N. Y., F: Warne & Co., [1889.] 29 p. il. Q. pap., 35 c.
- The son of Birket Foster shows in his first publication that he has inherited talent, taste, and humor. His mice, cats, hens, frogs, dogs, and birds are full of life, and the words they illustrate are well chosen to show the foibles and follies of human nature also. From cover to cover the book is bright and dainty. It is appropriately dedicated to the artist's father.
- *Fowler, J. A. History of insurance in Philadelphia for two centuries, (1683-1882.) Phil., Review Pub. and Printing Co., N. W. cor. Walnut and 4th Sts., 1889. c. 910 p. O. shp., $10.
- *Fowler, W. Warde. Tales of the birds. 2d ed., il. by Bryan Hook. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1889. 239 p. D. cl., $1.25.
- Froebel, F: Autobiography ; tr. and annotated by Emilie Michaelis and H. Keatley Moore. Syracuse, N. Y., C. W. Bardeen, 1889. c. 12+167 p. sq. O. cl., $1.50.
- Opens with a chapter comparing the characters and work of Pestalozzi and Froebel. Then follow two long letters of Froebel which contain almost all the facts known about him. These letters were addressed to the Duke of Meiningen and the philosopher Krause. Next is a chronological abstract of the principal events in the life of Froebel and the Froebel community; then a bibliography and excellent index, both of American origin. The bulk of the book is from English plates. The translators are both connected with the Croydon Kindergarten.
- Gozlan, Leon. Valentine : a novel. From the French by Leon Mead. Washington and N. Y., The United Service Pub. Co., 1889. c. 12+174 p. S. (United Service lib., v. 1, no. 2.) pap., 25 c.
- Philippe de Blanckastel, upon his return from African wars, becomes a gambler to save him from ennui. He loses all his fortune. He determines to marry a girl who has faithfully followed him through the world. She generously gives him up to a rich widow. Both women are wholly unselfish in their love of Philippe, the essence of selfishness. A story thoroughly French in its false perspective of law, order, and morals.
- *Grove, Sir G: ed. Dictionary of music and musicians, 1450-1889; by eminent writers, English and foreign. 4 v., v. 4; with appendix, ed. by J. A. Fuller Maitland. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1889. 11+820 p. O. cl., $6; appendix, separate, pap., $2.25.
- Grumbine, J. C. F. An old religion : a study. Chic., C: H. Kerr & Co., 1889. c. 12+95 p. S. pap., 50 c.
- The old religion is the religion taught by the ideal example of the Nazarene. Christianity as practised by the churches is arraigned. The present church compromises with sin to gain its support, and appeals to sensationalism to fill its pulpits. It should give scholarly and rational interpretation to the bibles of the world and impress upon men that human life is broader than any creed, and religion the will of God. Right living should be the test of true religion, not a belief in any tenet or dogma.

- It supplies in a clear, concise, and convenient form the whole common law of arrest as it exists in this country to-day, and is especially designed as a guide to police officers, sheriffs, constables, marshals, and all peace officers throughout the United States.
- Hector, Mrs. Annie F., [Mrs. Alexander, pseud.] A crooked path. N. Y., G: Munro, [1889.] 3-390 p. S. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 1189.) pap., 20 c.

- Jessop, G. H. Judge Lynch : a romance of the California vineyards. N. Y., Belford, Clarke & Co., [1889.] c. 232 p. D. (Household lib., v. 4, no. 44.) pap., 50 c.
- A story full of strong dramatic situations dealing with California life some years ago. The characters have appeared before in a play by Brander Matthews and the author. The one villain of the romance is the schoolmaster, a fatalist and dreamer, led astray by misplaced love. The hero, who twice escapes "Judge Lynch," is the strong, healthy, truth-telling man who always "brings down the house."

- The author is of Scottish parentage. He was born in Caledonia, N. Y., in 1829. He is chiefly known as a song-writer furnishing both text and music. The present poem is based upon the invasion of the English settlements of New York, two hundred years ago, by the Marquis of Denonville, Governor of New France. The invaded territory belonged to the great Iroquois tribe. Onnalinda is supposed to be an Iroquois maiden. The poem is full of romance and the verse is musical and most suitable for declamation. It is now first published in America. A limited subscription edition was sold in 1888 by the Onnalinda Pub. Co. The book is gotten out in holiday style in white cover with gilt lettering. It is well printed from De Vinne plates and ought to be a successful effort for the young firm.

- Occupies itself with the physiological structure of the larynx, treating more especially of the varying position and activity of the laryngeal organs during the sounding of the voice registers (chest, medium, and head register), in which connection interesting experiments are cited. Kotzebue in his review of this work, claims that our vocal art attained its highest perfection at a time when the physiology of the voice was an unknown region. "But then, when the master has brought his pupil so far in art that it has become beautiful nature, he may also let him study the larynx ad libitum, not forgetting this instructive book."

- Four chapters have been written specially for this book. The remainder are extracts or translations from Kerner's "Pflanzenleben," Von Sachs' "Lectures in the physiology of plants," and from the writings of Charles Darwin, Saintine, John Lubbock, and other naturalists. The reader aims to supply a course of reading calculated to awaken the interest of the pupil in the study of plants, but it is not a complete botany.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ELMIRA, N. Y.—The copartnership heretofore existing between Arthur S. Fitch and Hosmer H. Billings was dissolved August 1, by mutual consent, Mr. Fitch retiring. The business will be continued by Hosmer H. Billings, to whom all accounts should be paid and who assumes all liabilities of said firm. Mr. Fitch has been twenty-four years in the book business in Elmira, entering Hall Brothers, store after his return from the war. Eighteen years ago he embarked for himself and has worked assiduously since.

NEW YORK CITY.—Duprat & Co., booksellers, have been succeeded by Felicie Duprat, who will continue the business under the same style.

PHILADELPHIA.—H. L. Kilner & Co. have opened at 103 S. 11th St., near Chestnut, a wholesale and retail Catholic bookstore, and will keep on hand a complete line of all standard publications, and all new books as soon as issued. Mr. H. L. Kilner has been for the past nine years connected with John Murphy & Co., of Baltimore.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—W. S. Duncombe & Co., publishers of medical books, have dissolved partnership.

WINCHESTER, TENN.—W. W. Petty & Co., booksellers and stationers, have been succeeded by Simmon & Rowell.

PERSONAL NOTES.

F. H. JOHNSON, for the past six years with G. P. Putnam's Sons, will travel hereafter for Fleming H. Revell, of Chicago and New York. Mr. Johnson's headquarters when in town will be No. 12 Bible House.

OBITUARY.

THE REV. DR. GEORGE ZABRISKIE GRAY, Dean of the Protestant Episcopal Seminary at Cambridge, Mass., died at Sharon Springs, N. Y., where he was spending the summer, on August 4. He was born in New York City, July 14, 1838. In 1876 Dr. Gray was appointed Dean of the Cambridge Seminary. He was a constant student of Broad Church tendencies. He published a few books, among which were "Recognition in the World to Come," "Husband and Wife, or, the theory of marriage," and the "Children's Crusade in the Thirteenth Century."

THE death is announced of Fanny Lewold (Frau M. A. Stahr), the celebrated German novelist. She was born at Koenigsberg, March 24, 1811, received a very liberal education, and, being allowed to choose her religion, at seventeen years of age became a Christian. After travel in Germany and France, which stimulated her imaginative powers, she began, with a view to entertaining her sick sister, to write novels, which were published anonymously in 1834 and 1835. The principal ones of these early works were "Clementine," "Jenny," "A Question of Life," and "The Poor Girl." In 1845, while travelling in Italy and studying the country, her father died, and she returned to Germany. In 1855 she married M. A. Stahr, but continued to put her family name to her works. Among her other works were "Pictures of Italy," published in 1847; "Prince Louis Ferdinand," in 1849; "Impressions of a Voyage in England and Scotland," in 1852; "History of My Life," in 1861; "Benvenuto," in 1875, and "Novels," in 1877. Twelve volumes of her selected works were published in Berlin from 1871 to 1875.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

CARRYING THE BOOK WAR INTO THE DRY-GOODS STORES.

THE late Gen. Cornelius Scipio, familiarly referred to as Africanus the Elder, surfeited with his victories and the spaghetti of Italy, and worried no doubt by the heat, the want of something else to do, and the impertinence of his neighbors, one fine day about two thousand years ago conceived the brilliant design of boldly entering the domain of his slaughtering competitors in the Dark Continent, to make an example of them and to teach them a wholesome lesson. The world knows the result of this expedition. Scipio was a decent sort of fellow, and not by any means a "stick," whatever the philologists may say to the contrary, and he therefore didn't quite go the length of Cato's plans and wishes—delenda est Carthago; but he drove a nail into the touch-holes of the Carthaginian's guns—spiked them, in fact—and brought the people to their senses, so that while Carthage flourished and did a nice little cash business, Rome also had a "living" show, and enjoyed herself in peace and quietness.

It is an old story that "history repeats itself." That is what it is doing now. As usual the West has the lead. The East is always inclined to take its ease. But, as Artemus Ward once said, "Let that pass." The simple fact is that our old friends, the Burrows Bros. Co., of the classic city of Cleveland, like Scipio, gorged with the profits of their book business, and stirred by the heat, and also by the impertinence of their neighbors of the dry-goods business, have determined to carry the war into their competitors' camp. As a starter, they have "laid in" a lot of pins at a penny a paper, and not the smallest either; buttons, gloves, gentlemen's undervests, corsets, thread, safety-pins, handkerchiefs, etc., which will be disposed of by them at ruinously low prices. In fact their motto is Dry-Goods without Profit! We notice they have not yet resorted to the deadly parallel column of "Price at Dry-Goods Store" and "Our Price," but we will not presume to anticipate their line of action. In their first manifesto they assure the enemy that "whenever we can induce our neighbors to respect our wares, we shall be glad to abandon this incursion into their territory. . . . With those who do not keep books we have no debate, . . . but for the ones whose course is our just grievance, no price they can make on the above goods will be as low as our price, save until we find it out. We shall set the prices." "Ah, there's the rub," in the last sentence. That is what the dry-goods business has been doing for the publishing trade. Let's see now how they like their own nostrum.

We expect, now that the pace has been set, that every bookstore in the country will stock up with dry-goods, shoes, glassware, and furniture, and hang out a banner with the strange device,

Dry-Goods without Profit!

What? Pins. At a penny a paper, and not the smallest size, either.

Pins. The Ne-Plus-Ultra, medium size, at 3c. per paper, or 2 papers for 5c.

Buttons. Generally sold at from 15c. to 20c. per card of one dozen, at 6½c. per card, or 4 cards for 25c.

Gloves. Genuine Foster Kids at 75c. per pair, never sold in dry-goods stores before this date at less than $1.

Gentlemen's Undervests for 24c. This identical thing has been sold in at least two Cleveland dry-goods stores at 50c. within less than six months.

Corsets. Warner's Coralline at 75c. The universal dry-goods store price is, and long has been, $1.

Thread. Clark's Mile-End Spool Cotton. Full assortment of sizes and numbers, both black and white, at 4c. per spool, or 45c. per dozen.

Safety-Pins. Medium size, per paper 2½c. Generally retailed in dry-goods stores at 4c. and 5c.

Handkerchiefs at 12½c. a dozen. Generally sold at 25c. each.

Handkerchiefs at 55c. a dozen. Of a grade never before sold in this city under 80c.

Handkerchiefs at 68c. per dozen. This is for gentlemen, and is the noted number 1000, known throughout the dry-goods trade as a "leader," at 8c. to 10c. each.

Handkerchiefs. Extra fine quality, always sold at 15c. in dry goods stores, and often at more, for $1 per dozen.

Why? Well, the weather is warm, for one thing; and we have not had our vacation, for another; and we need a little amusement, for a third. But, after all, neither one of the above is the correct reason. It is not far to seek, though. The dry-goods stores will (some of them only) persist in their attempts to teach us our business by dealing in books at what they claim to be cut rates, a claim which, so far as our prices are concerned, has been always made in error, to put it mildly. If a full and complete assortment of books and stationery is carried, that is entitled to our consideration and respect. But if, with a handful of some piratical publishers' stock in the cheapest possible editions, the attempt is made (as it is, and many times has been) to undermine the needed and legitimate profitable support of our business, we think it time to take a step in self-defence. Carrying the war into Africa was considered wise policy in Scipio's days, and perhaps the Roman method is best to-day.

How long? So long as we find it needful. We may, as a matter of convenience, not keep a continuous window display of these goods; but the public will do well to note these prices, since they will be maintained by us so long (but only so long) as we find we are suffering from outside interference.

Whenever we can induce our neighbors to respect our wares, we shall be glad to abandon this incursion into their territory, and do not doubt that the general public will be as well pleased, and the merchants as well off.

With those who do not keep books we have no debate, and should any of them in self-defence go below these cost prices we shall respect their rights and not even meet the cut, but for the ones whose course is our just grievance no price they can make on the above goods will be as low as our price, save until we find it out. WE SHALL SET THE PRICES.

In the meantime we ask our old friends to bear with us during this temporary spasm.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Outing for October will begin a sporting serial by Captain Hawley Smart, the English novelist.

THE September Atlantic will contain an important article on "The Isthmus Canal and American Control" by Stuart F. Weld.

The Author's Gazette is the name of a new monthly paper which is to be published by Mr. H. R. Tift, at No. 2 Broadway, New York. It will publish any original article upon any subject. The proprietor assumes no responsibility for the views of contributors, and will exercise no censorship beyond what may be necessary to exclude anything of an immoral or libellous character.

A WORTHY DEED.—A citizen bought himself a book the other day, and wrote this on the flyleaf, "Presented to John Jones by himself, as a mark of esteem."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE "George Truman Kercheval" who wrote a book called "Lorin Mooruck, and other Indian stories," is said to be a young lady, named Winifred Jennings.

LEWIS MORRIS is reported to be engaged on a poem similar to his "Epic of Hades," in which he deals with remarkable episodes in the lives of saints, beginning with the early Christian saints and martyrs and ending with the life and death of Father Damien.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

WOOD'S MEDICAL AND SURGICAL MONOGRAPHS for September will contain a practical work on the art of embalming, something unique in our medical literature. These Monographs are meeting with a hearty reception from the profession throughout the country.

MRS. TERESA H. DEAN, the author of the successful little book, "How to Be Beautiful," threatens to sue R. S. Peale & Co., of Chicago, for infringing on her copyright. Judging by the account of the matter printed in the Chicago Tribune Mrs. Dean has the best of the argument.

A BOSTON music publisher is about to take the interesting step of establishing a branch house in Leipsic for the express purpose of publishing works by American composers. Under German laws, he can secure copyrights in the publication or the performance of American musical works, and after they are issued at Leipsic, he can obtain similar rights in several other European countries.

BARDWELL & BLACKMER, 14 Milk St., Boston, Mass., have just issued a practical book for clergymen entitled "The Pastor's Ledger." It consists of a neat and well-bound blank-book with spaces for the recording of sermons, prayer-meetings, baptisms, church accessions, marriages and funerals, etc., designed by F. A. Blackmer with the aid of representative pastors of different denominations.

THE historical treatise on Columbus for which a prize has been offered by a Spanish Commission must be delivered to the Secretary of the Royal Academy of History, at Madrid, before the 1st of January, 1892. Works written in Spanish, Portuguese, English, German, French, or Italian, may enter the competition. The two prizes amount respectively to $5700 and $2895, each of the two successful authors receiving besides 500 copies of his work.

A TYPOGRAPHICAL curiosity is about to appear in Paris. It is a special edition, limited to thirty copies, of "Manon Lescaut," printed from new type, and illustrated (1) with a set of seven large engravings from water-color drawings by Lionel Royer, in two states; one in colors, before letters, and one in bistre with descriptive legend; (2) nine original water-color drawings painted on the volume by a different artist for each copy, forming the covers, false titles, frontispieces, head and tail pieces of the volume. Consequently each of the thirty copies is unique. The price per copy, each of which is numbered, is 1000 francs, and the copies are supplied in the order of subscription, the fact of each copy having original designs by different artists preventing a simultaneous delivery.

The Literary News.

With 1889, the LITERARY NEWS has become a capital Dollar Magazine, while keeping to its specialty of giving in an hour's bright reading a bird's-eye view of new books and literary affairs.

A charming novel of New England life, by a new writer, began in January and will run through the year.

A series of portraits, from original paintings by MISS DORA WHEELER, of Living American Authors, will make fine frontispieces to each number, accompanying descriptive sketches of "Authors and How They Work."

Bright articles based on new books will be finely illustrated from them.

The "Survey of Current Literature" presents the best quick view of current literature given in any periodical.

A page of humor and miscellany, usually illustrated by "comics," enlivens each number.

Every bookseller who pushes the LITERARY NEWS, pushes his own trade also, because it is specially intended to help him sell books.

Any bookseller who takes 100 copies monthly has his own imprint-advertisement printed on front cover free. It becomes thus practically his own magazine.

Terms, One Dollar a year; Ten Cents a number.

TO THE TRADE: on sale and return, 6 cents a number; outright (10 or more copies), 5 cents a number; 100 copies monthly, with imprint, $5; 250 copies, $10; 1000 copies, $35. On single copies, mailed to subscribers from this office direct, at $1, one-third commission will be allowed.
